Season of New

Spring may be the season of change and new birth, but at the ABD summer has been filled with changes and new things. New customers, laws, technologies and records have been keeping the ABD staff very busy.

New Customers

First off, I'd like to welcome the new legal issues in the alcoholic beverage industry convenience store licensees. This is your first that are currently affecting licensees. This issue of the Iowa Liquor Quarterly Magazine, issue's "Legally Speaking" covers new Iowa or the ILQ, as we like to call it. The ILQ is published quarterly in February, May, August and November and mailed free of charge to all on- and off-premises licensees. The ILQ contains a wealth of information including a complete wholesale price list. Additional resources include a "Legally Speaking" article, which can be found at the end of each issue, and covers pertinent IowaABD.com to stay up to date on everything regarding the alcohol industry in Iowa.

New Laws

The 2011 Iowa legislative session made many changes that impact the ABD and liquor licensees. Rules for the home delivery of alcoholic beverages were defined and the ABD has been mandated to develop and implement a statewide alcohol compliance employee training program. As I mentioned above, the legislature also removed some restrictions from convenience stores selling spirits and set a fee structure for these licensees. Additional legislation impacts high alcoholic content beer and wine manufacturers. For more details on these and other new laws, be sure to read the special extended "Legally Speaking" article in this issue.

New Technology

The ABD is developing mobile tags to direct users to supplemental and related content on IowaABD.com. Tags are scanned by smart phone users to access mobile content. These will be used as a quick way to access essential information like pricing and delivery schedules when you're on the go. Download the app and start scanning today!

Also new this summer is Robocom, a warehouse management system. We appreciate your patience as we work out the kinks internally. In the very near future, we will have full implementation of the system and licensees will begin to see the benefits. The ability to place your regular and special orders through the web-based store, create order templates and view monthly specials will allow businesses greater control in inventory, customer choice and savings.

New Records

This summer also brought the end of Fiscal Year 2011 and, with that, two new records. The ABD sold over $220 million in spirits, breaking the previous year's record by over $10 million. In addition to revenue from spirits profits, funds generated by excise taxes on wine and beer, license fees and civil penalties translated into a general fund transfer of over $105 million for the first time in a single fiscal year.

The majority of this money will be used as general funding to be appropriated by the legislature for a variety of state programs. Additional funds are earmarked for substance abuse, city and county programs. The remaining funds will be used for Iowa native wine and beer promotion.

Conclusion

Summer always seems to fly by, even more so when you're busy. While we focus on new customers, new laws, new technology and new records at the ABD, I hope you have some time to get out and enjoy this summer season of new!

Sincerely,

Rick Swizdor

Road to Recovery from the 2011 Flooding

The Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division and the State of Iowa are helping licensees recover from devastating floods. The ABD is issuing refunds for licensees who have been forced to close for a period of time or indefinitely due to flood damage. To submit a refund application, visit IowaABD.com or call 866.IowaABD, option 1, for live customer support. Please let the ABD know if there is anything else that can be done to help your establishment get back into the business.

What did you like about working in the warehouse?

I was one of the new employee trainers and enjoyed welcoming new staff to the team and teaching them the job responsibilities.

Now that you work in the office side, what is your favorite part of your job?

I like that I travel across Iowa to assist our licensees with the alcohol laws. I am able to see different types of industry members from manufacturers to retailers. I also enjoy how every day is new and different from the day before.

What are your job duties?

My main job duty is to perform investigations to educate licensees on laws and provide corrective measures to ensure they become compliant. To do this, I travel throughout the 99 counties in Iowa to coordinate with other federal, state and local law enforcement. I have also been working in collaboration to develop the compliance program at ABD.

This involves creating the Electronic Access Program, which tracks the number of complaints, types of violations and actions law enforcement have taken.

What do you like to do in your free time?

In my free time, I like to spend as much time with my daughter, Nevaeh, as possible. We often go to the park or go camping, fishing and swimming together.
Sometimes we pack up in the car and travel to no exact destination for the day, stopping at parks, pet stores and different places on the way. This summer we will be visiting Worlds of Fun and Kansas City Zoo to ride the roller coasters and see the different animals.

When I'm not with my daughter, you can usually find me on the softball field playing ball with the adult league I am involved in. I played baseball in high school and college and coached college baseball for a few years after I graduated.

The mixability, affordability, and increasingly prestigious character of a wide range of American whiskeys will help drive the category toward a larger market share in years to come.

“Along with the iPhone, whiskey is one of America’s most recognizable exports. Master distillers from Kentucky and Pennsylvania to Oregon and Tennessee have cracked open hand-selected barrels and bottled their best, releasing the epitome of their craft.

The chant “Buy American” can now be heard in bars and stores around the globe. The vivacious, satiny characters and assertive bouquets of these whiskeys are universally appealing, yet by nature they are understated. Even as they acquire more prestige, they remain accessible to all palates and priced for all budgets.

Another factor in the category's worldwide resurgence is that American whiskeys are extremely mixable. As evidence, bourbon appears in more classic cocktail recipes than any other type of whiskey. Whether served with cola, a splash of branch (tap) water, or featured in a cocktail, American whiskeys are highly compatible with a broad range of mixers, a legitimate claim not all styles of whiskey can make.

By all indications, American whiskeys will continue to grab an increasingly larger share of the popular limelight. Their mixability, affordability, and easy-to-appreciate character seem to be what consumers are looking for. So where is the category heading?

"American whiskey is reinventing itself and communicating better with consumers," observes Amy Preske, public relations manager for Buffalo Trace Distillery. "Today a number of distillers have gone back to the small batch method that places a premium on producing high-quality whiskey. The reality is that these whiskeys cost more to produce, however consumers have shown a willingness to pay for these outstanding products. Their drinkable characters and rich flavors are extremely appealing."

Larry Kass, director of corporate communications at Heaven Hill, is bullish on the category's prospects for continued growth. "Obviously there are a lot of positive things happening with American whiskeys, particularly among the super-premium segment, where small batches, single barrels, and extra-aged bottlings continue to sell exceptionally well and draw attention to the category. As a matter of fact, it appears that as a percentage of total category sales, super-premium American whiskeys have a lot of room to grow when compared to equivalent high-end tequilas and single malt Scotches."

Whiskey producer Julian Van Winkle says that current efforts to make bourbons and ryes more interesting for the consumer are paying off. "There are more aged whiskeys being marketed today by distillers. These older whiskeys are far more interesting than the younger versions sold previously. There are also more specialty bottlings and private labels for stores and restaurants. It's an exciting time for American whiskey."

Brown-Forman Master Distiller Chris Morris, who has made bourbon his life's work, is especially optimistic about the future of the American whiskey category. "Twenty years from now this category will be stronger, healthier, and held in even higher esteem around the world thanks to the groundwork of quality and innovation that is being laid today."

Truly Tuscan

"A glass of wine demands you sit and have a conversation."

- John Guinan, Owner

Story by Nicole Hartman, Photos by Tonya Dusold

Santa Maria's vineyard is located next to St. Mary's Church in Willey, Iowa. The winery has many award winning wines and bakes Tuscan-style pizzas in their outdoor brick oven.

You haven't seen a renovation transformation until you've seen the beautiful Santa Maria Winery, located in the old Wittrock auto dealership and gas station in Carroll, Iowa. Owners

John and Rose Guinan bought the building in 2007 after viewing the property for only 15 minutes, knowing it would be the perfect site for their dream winery. The Guinans spent a year and a half renovating the building, making sure to keep many of the original ceilings, floors, doors, stairs and other historic pieces. Shortly after renovating, Santa Maria Winery open its doors in the summer of 2009.

Walking into the Santa Maria winery, you immediately feel the Tuscan theme which was inspired by the Guinans' trip to Italy. The winery includes a tasting room, event center, dance floors, Tuscan bridal balcony, fireplaces and an outdoor piazza. The winery also features artwork from Tom Moberg, a landscape sculptor who resides in Des Moines but creates sculptures around the country.

The plan was originally for a small winery serving meat and cheese, but it quickly evolved into a winery hosting tours and welcoming guests to their restaurant, open for both lunch and dinner. Santa Maria Winery offers a full menu of soup, salads, sandwiches and delicious brick oven pizzas that cook in only a few minutes. The dinner menu expands to include steak, pork, chicken and pasta that each come with multiple sides.

Santa Maria Winery makes and barrels their wines on site at their over 25,000 sq ft facility in Carroll.

Patrons dining in the Tuscan piazza, listening to music and enjoying a beautiful Iowa summer day.

It's hard to believe all of Santa Maria Winery's achievements within the short period they have been open. In two years, five of their wines received medals from the Finger Lakes National Wine Competition including Voilé, Edelweiss, Barbera, Brianna and Syrah. Santa Maria Winery produces 22 wines and is looking forward to their upcoming chocolate wine. One of the famous wines from Santa Maria Winery is Rhuby Dooby, a wine made of Iowa grown rhubarb.

Santa Maria Winery has two harvests; one harvest from grapes grown in Iowa, and the other from grapes grown on the west coast. Wine making is a very lengthy process from growing grapes to the point of bottling the wine. For example, Santa Maria Winery is currently bottling wine from 2007. About 10,000 cases of Santa Maria wine was sold this year and 40,000 to 50,000 bottles of wine wait in the cellar, ready for delivery.

Some may ask how John and Rose got into the winery business in the first place. John spent most of his life as an entrepreneur and began making wine as a hobby in 1998. The Guinans decided they wanted to create a business of their own and started searching for a site near their home in Omaha. Having no luck, the Guinans knew they had to look outside of Nebraska and started searching for locations in Iowa, because Iowa's laws are more beneficial to small businesses and native wineries. The Guinans finally found their destiny and bought land for their vineyard next to the church where they were married, St. Mary's Church in Willey.

The Guinans talked to over 25 wineries to figure out what works and what doesn't. They visited wineries to collect tips and advice, as well as to gain inspiration for their own winery. Considering it more as helping the wine industry in general instead of competition, John stated he would gladly return the favor and help anyone who came to him for suggestions.

With the incredible renovation, you will never guess it used to be an old auto dealership and gas station. The Guinans successfully created a place out of a historically significant building to something enjoyable for the community. You can easily say Santa Maria Winery is exactly what the Guinans hoped for: the perfect place to sit, talk and drink.

Jägermeister

DRINK RESPONSIBLY | JAGER.COM

Jägermeister Liqueur 35% Alc./Vol. Imported by Sidney Frank Importing Co., Inc. New Rochelle, NY

Here are some suggestions.

Pair liqueurs with ice cream for a quick, easy snack or dessert that takes the taste of summer into fall. Place scoops of vanilla or flavored ice cream in chilled or frosted bowls, and splash on a liqueur flavored with fresh-from-the-orchard apples, berries, cherries, melons, peaches, or even pumpkins. Garnish with pieces of fresh fruit.

Highlight alcoholic beverages and mixed drinks that reflect local and state school colors. Feature serving these spirits in shooters, layered drinks, and popular cocktails.

Feature premixed packaged drinks and make-ahead-of-time punch recipes suitable for tailgating and game-watching parties. Play up the convenience aspects of these ready-to-serve beverages, and show how to make them taste fresh with clean ice and fruit garnishes.

Display newly released products. Highlight small batch, single barrel, and extra-aged bottlings of whiskey and bourbon, as well as new flavors of liqueurs and other spirits. Feature serving these beverages on their own as well as in mixed drinks.

Promote “special” drinks for fall festivals and Halloween parties. Feature traditional drink recipes with “spooky” names, or create your own festive concoctions.

Think Fun and Profits!

Take advantage of all the opportunities fall offers—from Labor Day cookouts to tailgating parties and Halloween festivals—to help your customers have a good time and promote seasonal beverages to increase your profits. Just select the liqueurs and other spirits you want to highlight, and feature them in eye-catching displays or on your drink or food menu.

The ready-to-serve, prepared cocktail category may not be the largest . . . but it's only going to grow—and it pays to be ready for it.

Making Premixed Taste Like Homemade

Here are a few quick-and-easy tips to make ready-to-serve drinks taste just-mixed fresh.

- Chill the packaged drinks ahead of time.
- Serve the drinks in sparkling clean “special” glasses.
- Serve the drinks in chilled or frosted glasses to make them look and taste more refreshing as well as to keep them cold longer.
- Pour the drinks over fresh ice in the prepared serving glasses.
- Garnish the drinks with complementary fresh fruit, special olives, or cocktail onions.

Mixing It Up!

PREMIXED COCKTAIL PRODUCTS, PARTICULARLY THE PREMIUM BRANDS, ARE POISED FOR GROWTH.

BY CHERYL URSIN

Note: This excerpt is printed with permission from the March/April 2011 issue of StateWays—the Beverage Alcohol Merchandising Magazine for Control States.

Premixed cocktail products sell year-round at Spec's, the beverage alcohol retailer based in Houston, Texas. The number-one type of premixed cocktail at Spec's is the Margarita. “And Cosmopolitans are such a big hit that they're not slowing down either,” says marketing director Lisa Key. “People tend to go with brand names they trust.”

While premade cocktails traditionally have been seen as a favorite of female consumers more than male, the sales are actually not that skewed. “The consumer demographic is male and female surprisingly enough. It's about 55

percent female,” reports Gordon Chisholm, brand director of Bacardi Flavored Rums, RTS (Ready To Serve), RTD (Ready To Drink) & Trade Communication at Bacardi USA.

Sheila Senhouse, brand manager for Malibu Rum at Pernod Ricard USA, agrees. “The consumers are slightly more female,” she says, “and they are in the mid-range in terms of age, from 25 to 40.”

Suppliers and retailers alike say that it is the premium level and above that is growing the most in this market. Contrary to the image that ready-made products sometimes have of being inferior to homemade versions, many consumers of premixed cocktail products are discriminating when it comes to quality. “What we’re seeing is consumers who are a little particular—they want products that are more like ‘live cocktails’ and are made with higher-end ingredients,” explains Senhouse.

A defining characteristic of the prepared-cocktail market is that new products are always being introduced. This market “is characterized by innovation and newness,” says Chisholm.

Others agree. “The ready-to-drink category is very susceptible to trends,” notes Campbell Brown, vice president and director of the Americas for Southern Comfort at Brown-Forman. “A perfect example is the sweet tea explosion over the last few years. On the flip side, the category has its mainstays like the Hurricanes and Margaritas. We’re continuing to see a great deal of innovation around flavors, packaging, and new product entries.”

The ready-to-serve, prepared cocktail category may not be the largest, but “it’s been around for years. In 2004, according to Adams [Beverage Information Group,] it was a six to seven million case-per-year category,” Chisholm points out. “That’s a decent chunk of volume, and it’s not going anywhere. It’s only going to grow.”

And it pays to be ready for it.

Pour a Piece of Pie

Fresh-picked apples, sliced, sprinkled with cinnamon and sugar, and baked under a blanket of flaky pastry until the juice becomes a rich syrup—apple pie, one of the most luscious tastes of fall!

If you don't have a fresh-baked apple pie on hand, all you have to do is reach for one of the many apple-flavored spirits (brandy, cognac, gin, rum, sake, schnapps, vermouth, and vodka) and pour yourself a piece of pie. If you prefer fresh peach or berry or cherry or pumpkin pie—just modify the recipes below to satisfy your craving!

Schnapps-Flavored Apple Pie

3-3 ½ ounces apple-flavored schnapps
1-2 dashes cinnamon-flavored schnapps
Ground cinnamon
Apple slice
Cinnamon stick

Fill an old-fashioned glass half-full with fresh ice. Pour the apple and cinnamon-flavored schnapps over the ice, and stir gently to blend. Sprinkle with cinnamon, and garnish with the apple slice and cinnamon stick.

Brandy-Flavored Apple Pie

¾-1 ounce light rum
¾-1 ounce light sweet vermouth
1-1½ teaspoons apple-flavored brandy or cognac
1-1½ teaspoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
½ teaspoon grenadine
Apple slice
Lemon twist

Combine the rum, vermouth, brandy or cognac, lemon juice, and grenadine in a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain the mixed drink into a cocktail glass. Garnish with the apple slice and lemon twist.

Vodka-Flavored Apple Pie

1½-2 ounces apple-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce apple cider or juice
Ground cinnamon
Apple slice
Cinnamon stick

Place fresh ice in a mixing glass, and add the vodka and cider or juice. Stir well, and strain the mixed drink into a chilled old-fashioned (rocks) glass. Sprinkle with cinnamon, and garnish with the apple slice and cinnamon stick.

Apple Pie Martini

3-4 ounces vanilla-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce apple-flavored brandy or cognac
½-1 ounce dry or sweet vermouth
Cinnamon stick

Combine the vodka, brandy or cognac, and vermouth (dry for a dry martini; sweet for a wet martini) in a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain the mixed drink into a chilled cocktail glass. Serve with the cinnamon stick.

THE MANY WAYS TO ENJOY THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA

The simplest way to enjoy whiskey—and fully appreciate its distinctive aromas and flavors—is to sip it straight. Sample some of the small batch, single barrels, and extra-aged bottlings to discover—or rediscover—the differences in brands and decide which ones you like best.

You can also enjoy whiskey mixed with branch (tap) water, bottled, or distilled water—or with ginger ale or another soft drink of choice. Whiskey also complements a wide variety of other spirits as well as mixers, so be sure to try it in your favorite classic cocktails.

John Collins

Serve in a chilled (highball) glass.

*¾-2 ounces freshly squeezed lemon juice
1½-2 ounces freshly squeezed lime juice
2-3 ounces chilled whiskey or bourbon
1 teaspoon confectioner's sugar or ½ ounce sugar syrup*

*Club soda
Lemon slice
Lime slice
Maraschino cherry*

Combine the lemon juice, lime juice, whiskey or bourbon, and sugar or sugar syrup in a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain into the prepared serving glass over fresh ice, if desired. Fill the glass with club soda, and garnish with the lemon and lime slices and maraschino cherry.

Whiskey Sour

Serve in a chilled sour glass.

*2-3 ounces whiskey or bourbon
¾-1 ounce freshly squeezed lemon juice
1-1¼ teaspoons sugar
Orange slice
Maraschino cherry*

Combine the whiskey or bourbon, lemon juice, and sugar in a shaker half-filled with fresh ice. Shake vigorously, and strain the mixed drink into the prepared serving glass. Garnish with the orange slice and maraschino cherry.

Manhattan

Serve in a chilled cocktail glass.

*2-2½ ounces whiskey
¾-1 ounce sweet or dry vermouth
3-4 dashes bitters
Maraschino cherry
Lemon twist*

Combine the whiskey, vermouth, and bitters in a mixing glass half-filled with fresh ice. Stir well, and strain the mixed drink into the prepared serving glass. Garnish with the maraschino cherry and/or lemon twist.

Old-Fashioned

Serve in an old-fashioned (rocks) glass.

*3-4 dashes bitters
1-1½ teaspoons water or club soda
1 sugar cube or ¼ tsp superfine sugar
3-3 ½ ounces whiskey
Orange slice
Maraschino cherry*

Combine the bitters and water in the serving glass; add the sugar cube, and muddle with the back of a teaspoon until mixed. Add fresh ice and the whiskey; stir gently. Garnish with the orange slice and the maraschino cherry.

Launch of IALERT E-Policy Tool

MULTIPLE STATE AGENCIES HAVE PARTNERED TO UNVEIL IOWA'S ALCOHOL LAW ENFORCEMENT/RETAIL TRAINING (I-ALERT) E-POLICY TOOL WHICH CAN BE FOUND AT IALERT.IOWA.GOV.

THE I-ALERT WEB SITE PRIMARILY FUNCTIONS AS A POLICY CREATION TOOL FOR BOTH ON & OFF PREMISE SALES. RETAIL ESTABLISHMENTS, CONVENIENCE, GROCERY AND LIQUOR STORES CAN USE THE SITE TO CREATE A CUSTOM POLICY REGARDING THE SALE OF ALCOHOL. SUGGESTED SUBSECTIONS FOR IN-STORE POLICIES RELATE TO IOWA LAW, AVOIDING SALES TO THE UNDER AGED AND THE INTOXICATED, AND RECOMMENDED ACTION WHEN A FAKE ID IS SPOTTED. Got Pumpkin?

You have probably seen piles of pumpkins at farmers' markets, visited a pumpkin patch, carved a jack-o'-lantern, and eaten pumpkin pie. But have you ever tasted pumpkin from a bottle?

This fall be sure to look for bottles of pumpkin-flavored spirits. A few alcoholic beverage producers offer them year-round, while others make them just as a seasonal offering. When you find a bottle, pour a little into a small glass and experience its unique flavor and aroma. Then try it in your favorite mixed drink and maybe even as a flavoring for a special fall dish.

Easy Pumpkin Martini

Serve in a specially prepared cocktail glass: Chill the glass; then wet the rim with either heavy or light cream, and dip it into a mixture of brown sugar and nutmeg.

*3½-4 ounces vanilla-flavored vodka
½-1 ounce pumpkin-flavored liqueur or schnapps*

Pour the vodka and liqueur or schnapps into a mixing glass half-filled with fresh ice. Stir gently to mix, and immediately strain the mixed drink into the prepared serving glass over fresh ice, if desired.

Layered Pumpkin Pie

Serve in a specially prepared cocktail glass: Chill the glass; then wet the rim with either heavy or light cream, and dip it into a mixture of brown sugar and nutmeg.

*½-1 ounce pumpkin-flavored liqueur
½-1 ounce Irish cream
½-1 ounce cinnamon schnapps*

Pour the pumpkin-flavored liqueur into the bottom of the prepared serving glass. Carefully pour the Irish cream over the back of a spoon onto the top of the pumpkin layer, and then carefully pour the cinnamon schnapps over the back of a spoon onto the top of the Irish cream layer.

HOME DELIVERY

During the 2011 session, the Iowa legislature passed Senate File 240. The legislation clearly defines how and when a licensed retailer can deliver alcoholic beverages to customers.

Unopened containers of alcohol for personal use may be delivered seven days a week, until 10:00 PM. Both the individual making the delivery and the person receiving the product must be at least 21 years old. Proof of the recipient's identity and age, as well as their signature, are a condition of delivery.

Here is a breakdown of what liquor licensees need to know prior, during and after delivering alcoholic beverages to customers:

PRIOR TO DELIVERY

Businesses wanting to deliver must hold a license that allows the sale of unopened containers of alcohol for off-premises consumption. Licensees may only deliver authorized products. For example, if a store has a beer and wine permit, they may not sell spirits for delivery.

Alcohol can be delivered to customers' homes and other designated areas, such as a reception hall. If the place of delivery is a business or public venue, all applicable rules of the location must be followed. For instance, if a park does not allow alcohol consumption, licensees may not deliver to that park.

All alcoholic beverages delivered must be for personal consumption and cannot be for resale in any way. As such, licensees are not allowed to deliver products to an event with a cash bar.

WHEN TAKING ORDERS

It is the responsibility of the licensee and its employees to ensure the purchasing customer is of legal drinking age.

Payment for all alcohol being delivered must be received on the licensed premises at the time of the order. This can be in person or over the phone. Customers cannot pay for products upon delivery.

Deliveries can be made seven days a week, with a Sunday sales privilege, until 10:00 PM. Deliveries may be made after 6:00 AM on Monday through Saturday and after 8:00 AM on Sunday.

While orders may be accepted at any time during the legal hours of sale, it is the responsibility of the licensee to ensure all deliveries have been completed by 10:00 PM.

The employee accepting an alcohol order for delivery must be at least 16 years old.

DURING DELIVERY

Deliveries must be made by an employee of the licensee. No third party deliveries are allowed. Alcohol must be transported in a vehicle owned, leased or under the control of the licensee. Deliveries may not be made in an employee's personal vehicle.

The delivery personnel and the recipient of the alcohol must both be at least 21 years old. Upon delivery, the licensee's employee must obtain proof of identity and age as well as the recipient's signature.

It is illegal to deliver to an intoxicated person or an individual simulating intoxication.

If a sale is made or delivered to a minor, the employee who accepted the order, the employee who made the delivery, and the license holder could potentially be charged with a sale to minor violation. The licensee is responsible for the actions of all employees.

The law does not restrict licensees from charging a delivery fee or delivery personnel from accepting tips.

AFTER DELIVERY

Businesses must keep a record of the recipient's name, signature and address, as well as the alcohol quantity delivered, for a period of three years. Licensees may develop their own record keeping form as long as it contains all required information. Alternatively, licensees may utilize the form developed by the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Division, which is available for free download at IowaABD.com.

It is up to individual store policy whether or not to accept returns on delivered unopened products.

NEW LAWS, NEW RESOURCES

Over the last few months the Iowa legislature has adopted technical and policy changes to matters related to the Iowa Alcoholic Beverage Control Act (Iowa Code Chapter 123).

CONVENIENCE STORE SALES

The Iowa Legislature has authorized the issuance of class “E” liquor licenses to a premises where gasoline is sold. A class “E” license allows commercial establishments to sell spirits for off-premises consumption in original, unopened containers. A Sunday sales privilege is included. The license also allows for sales to on-premises licensees such as bars and restaurants, if the class “E” licensee obtains an TTB Federal Wholesale Permit.

Prior to this legislation, a business that sold gasoline was required to have a separate, enclosed room with its own cash register in order to obtain a license to sell spirits. While this arrangement will still be an option for current and new businesses, the choice to sell spirits within the main floor of the business is now available.

Convenience stores who choose to maintain or build a separate room for spirits sales will pay as little as $750 annually. The legislature set a different fee structure for gas stations that choose to sell spirits within the main business area. These stores will pay no less than $3,500 and up to $7,500 for a class “E” license.

It is important to note that each store must obtain its own license. While a corporate office may fill out the application for all locations, a single license will not cover multiple premises.

Regulations governing all liquor licensees, including penalties for noncompliance, are applicable to licensed convenience stores as well.

ALCOHOL COMPLIANCE TRAINING

The ABD has been mandated to implement a statewide alcohol compliance employee training program. The ABD plans to develop a course similar to the Iowa Pledge Online Certification Program for tobacco retailers. The training will inform participants about state and federal laws regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages. The course will focus on properly checking identification, spotting signs of intoxication and how to refuse a sale. Participants must pass a final test to receive a certificate of completion.

To encourage retailers to require their employees to enroll in the training, lawmakers included an affirmative defense incentive, which may be used once in a four-year period to avoid civil prosecution if a sale-to-minor violation occurs in their establishment. The affirmative defense shall not be used if a sale is made to a minor under the age of eighteen. In order for a licensee to take advantage of the incentive, the employee who made the violation must have been certified through the training program at the time the offense occurred. Though a business may avoid a civil penalty, the guilty employee will still be subject to a fine.

OTHER LEGISLATION

Numerous other changes were made to Chapter 123, which are now in effect. The legislature modified the definition of high alcohol content beer to prohibit the addition of caffeine and other stimulants, effectively banning high-proof alcoholic energy drinks in Iowa.

Wine manufacturers may now enter into alternating proprietorship arrangements, subject to federal approval and the provisions of the Iowa Code Chapter 123. Wineries can also purchase grape brandy from the ABD for use in wine making.

Additionally, legislation made the code easier to understand by removing obsolete provisions and consolidating definitions into one section. The Governor now has the option to appoint up to two alcohol industry members to the Iowa Alcoholic Beverages Commission and the commission has been given greater flexibility to schedule meetings.

Iowa lawmakers also removed the exception to open records laws from ABD’s sales data.

CONCLUSION

The ABD has many tools to help licensees stay up-to-date on everything from law changes to holiday schedules. IowaABD.com is updated daily with news, events and resources. The website is a portal to the Division’s eLicensing and eRegulation systems, the Iowa Pledge Online Certification Program for tobacco retailers, I-Alert Under 21 Can’t be Done policy generator, public records information and so much more.
